The feds call her a racketeer, but Darlene Gillespie, 65, had that old Mouseketeer twinkle in her eye yesterday in Ventura, Calif., as she slipped out of her handcuffs and skipped out of federal court after posting her $200,000 bond.

One of nine original Mouseketeers from the legendary 1950s TV show, she and husband Jerry Fraschilla, 66, are charged with illegally netting over $300,000 by filing forged documents to cash in on a class-action settlement on stock they had never actually owned.
